

OPEN Ankersaal

A call for submissions

In 2019/20, the Ankersaal hall opens its doors in the Brotfabrik Vienna to inspire encounters through art, culture and events. The goal is to bring people from different groups, nations, districts or interests together.

We are looking for: Cultural initiatives from all over Vienna and especially from the 10th district, where the Brotfabrik is located, that aim to strengthen coexistence, rethinking, revitalization, etc. but usually cannot afford an event space like the Ankersaal.

There are no limits to the type of event: A poetry slam, a youth conference, a newcomer stand-up comedy show, a circus performance, a dance event, a folk song competition, a second-hand fair, an upcycling workshop, ...

We are offering: Use of the Ankersaal free of charge. The full-day rental costs of € 3,500 are waived in full. Existing technical equipment is also available free of charge. Only the costs for staff and cleaning must be paid.

The organizers may also charge an entry fee to their event. A jury selects 10 events per year to receive this chance.

Criteria:

- The event should have the potential to fill the hall, bring people together and be a benefit to the community.
- The event must be professionally promoted by the organizers themselves.
- Only reputable organizers will be awarded this chance, and please note that the Ankersaal Terms and Conditions apply to these events. The organizer must take out event liability insurance.
- Events taking place from January to March and July to September and at weekends are preferred.

A walkthrough of the hall is set for February 14th at 4:30 pm.

First submission deadline: February 28th.
Second submission deadline: June 30th.

Please send your submissions and queries to:
ankersaal@magdas.at

Your submission should include a short, maximum two-page description of the event, target audience, expected number of visitors, type of advertising/promotion planned and a short introduction of the organizer.
