

OPEN Ankersaal 2020

A Call for submissions

In 2020 Ankersaal at Brotfabrik will be open for encounters with art, culture and events again. The aim is to bring people from different groups, nations, districts and interests together.

We are looking for: cultural initiatives and groups, associations etc. from all over Vienna and especially from the 10th district, which strengthen cohabitation, rethink, revitalize ... but could normally not afford an event space like Ankersaal.

There are no limits to the type of event: from poetry slam to youth conference, from concert to newcomer cabaret, from dance event to folk song competition, from clothes-swapping event to upcycling workshop ...

We offer: Free rent for Ankersaal. Technical costs, costs for cleaning and hall attendant have to be paid. Technical equipment and personnel costs for an all-day event from 1,200 euros per day.

Criteria:

- Event should have the potential to fill the hall, bring people together and contribute to the common good
- Application of the event must be done by the organizer himself and professionally
- Awarded only to reputable organizers, the general terms and conditions of Ankersaal also apply to these events. In addition, event organizer liability insurance must be taken out by the organizer.
- Events that take place from January to March, July to September and weekends are preferred.
- Events must be held in 2020.

A jury will select the events. Submit now!

Submissions until February 15th, afterwards allocation of vacant capacities possible.
